Spring Session

February 26, 2007 9:00 am – 4:00 pm

Stepping Up: Leading the Charge to Improve Our Schools: Larry Lezotte

ESC 16 Workshop Registration Deadline:

February 12, 2007

Hilton Hotel Registration Deadline:

February 12, 2007 for $85 state rate (For reservations call: (512) 385-6767)

Registration Fee:

$175 – first two days; $100 – third day; $250 – all three days (includes continental breakfast, lunch, and breaks)

Presenter:

Larry Lezotte, Educational consultant and commentator

Program Description:

The current system of public education was never designed—or even intended—to successfully teach all students to a high standard. Attaining the mission and reaching the ambitious goals laid out by NCLB will require systemic change and effective leadership. Public education needs you, and others like you, to “step up” to the role of leader if we are to meet the expectations set forth for the children in our charge, not just by NCLB, but by parents, business, and society-at-large. In this presentation, Dr. Larry Lezotte identifies what leaders will need to know and be able to do to manage the required changes. Participants will receive a copy of Dr. Lezotte’s book: Stepping Up: Leading the Charge to Improve Our Schools.
