

The Dyslexia Promise:

Empowering Parents

FOR PARENTS OF CHILDREN WITH DYSLEXIA, it is difficult to watch their child struggle to do what others may take for granted...read. In recent years, research – as well as mainstream media – has started to highlight the challenges faced by those with dyslexia and how some of the challenges of having this disability can build strengths that allow individuals to make outstanding contributions to various fields. This one-day conference of phenomenal speakers will highlight the most current research on dyslexia, provide practical tips and information on $504, and celebrate the promising future of those with dyslexia.

Come hear inspiring stories and get the latest information on the following:

- Brain Research
- Section 504
- Technology Tools
- And MORE!
